Pop Stars

The cool and edgy way to make nails rock out in 2011? Dress them up with hues from the just-released Katy Perry collection by OPI. Inspired by the pop singer's cutting-edge style and latest album, Teenage Dream, the cache of colors range from sultry silver and shimmering blue to deep berry and dreamy pink glitter. A special Black Shatter formula that creates a cracked pattern when applied over the lacquers also accompanies the collection. opi.com —K.D.

Natural Beauty Sacred Nature from Comfort Zone is a five-item collection of natural, organic skincare products for the face and body that's formulated to deeply cleanse the skin, as well as protect it from environmental stressors that cause aging. The products from the line—Sacred Nature Milk, Oil, Cream, Gommage and Mask—contain antioxidant-rich buriti oil. Shea butter and jojoba oil further enhance skin quality with vitamins, unsaponifiables and fatty acids, while butterfly bush extract helps nourish skin cell DNA to leave skin with a fresh and youthful feel. GLOW AND BEHOLD Who says eye liner and shadow are the only way to dress up eyes when you can ring in the New Year with a little bling? "High-end crystals make a statement and have been used for decades in fashion," says makeup artist and American Salon Advisory Council member Taylor Chang-Babaian.

To get the look, she randomly applied white, pink and yellow-green crystals in various sizes to the lid using eyelash glue and tweezers. For more creative looks, check out Chang-Babaian's new book, Style Eyes (Perigee Trade Paperback Original, 2010). —K.D.
